Four Officials Plead Guilty and Pay a Total Fine of $25,000.

CHARGE IS CONSPIRACY TO ACCEPT REBATES

Statement Made Life of One Jeopardized by Strain of a Trial.

CHICAGO, Sept. Zi.-Four officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Packing company of Chicago were fined an aggregate of $25,000 by Judge Humphrey in the United States District court here today. The fines followed a plea of guilty to indictments charging con-spiracy to accept railroad rebates. The defendants were Samuel Well of New York, vice-president of the company, B. S. Cusey, traffic manager, Vance D. Skipworth and Chess E. Todd, assistant traffic manager.
Mr. Weil was fined $10,000, the other three $5000.

His Life in Jeopardy.

With the entering of the pleas the declaration was made that unless at least one of the cases is immediately settled the life of Samuel Weil, vice-president of the company and one of the defendants, is in jeopardy. He is said to be a nervous wreck and fears were entertained for his life if he had been allowed to continue under the strain of a trial.

The plea was entered, it is declared, after a complete understanding had been reached between counsel for the defendants and Attorney-General Wil-liam H. Moody.

Waive Jail Provision.

While in Chicago the Attorney-General was apprised of the condition of Vice-President Weil, and it is said agreed to the entry of a pice of guilty, with the inderstanding that the jell provision of the law under which the indictment was returned should be waived and merely a fine imposed. The same concession was made in the case of the other three defendants.

The four defendants were charged with The four defendants were charged with unlawfully combining and agreeing to solicit rebates for the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company from the Michigan Central Railway company, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Grand Trunk Western railroad, the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, the Boston & Maine Railroad company, and the Mobile & Chicago Romany Chairs & Chicago Railroad Company Supposed Damage Claims.

Charges were made that the defendants conspired with each other in presenting supposed claims for damages which were in reality claims for rebates. The plea made today does not in any way affect the charge of interference with Government witnesses made in a previous in the charge of interference with Government witnesses made in a previous indictment returned against Cusey and other Schwarzschild & Sulzberger men.

The four defendants were in the Federal court building and all but Well appeared before Judge Humphrey. They were accompanied by Attorney Welsenbach and Attorneys I. M. Boyeson and J. J. Herrick.

Paid Fines at Once.

The fines carried with them a provision that the defendants be confined in Jali until the fines were paid. The fines, however, were paid immediately Max Sulzberger giving his check for the total amount $25,000. The check, after being duly certified, was accepted as payment of the fines and the defendants then left the courtroom.

the courtroom.

District Attorney Morrison, discussing the case after adjournment of court, said. District Attorney Satisfied.

District Attorney Satisfied.

"I am perfectly satisfied with the matter as it stands. The defendants came into court, pleaded guilty and the court showed leniency in his sentence. The fine is heavy, but the imprisonment provision is there, the most important part of the law. I think it was a very fair consideration of the matter. It was proven conclusively by the Government that after the issuance of the injunction by Judge Grosscup, the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger company withdrew from the combination. They were independent, but in order to carry on their business in so strenuous a competition against the other packers it seems it was necessary for them to accept rebates.

Is an Opening Wedge.

Is an Opening Wedge.

"The results today only go to show that the Government has now lodged an opening wedge into the question of relates. We have found a way to proceed, and it seems the proper one. It seems to me that the Government is in a fair way breaking up the entire rebate evil in of breaking up the cuttre rebate evil in his country.

From the books of the Government it is shown that to take evidence against the four defendants and bring about their indictment the Government spent $16,000. The cases against Armour & Co. and others were continued until next Wednes-day.

GREAT CROWDS AT THE BLACKFOOT FAIR

Racing Programme Proves Highly Attractive: Elks Give a Banquet.

BLACKFOOT, Ida., Sept. 21.-This was easily the banner day in the history of the Southeastern Idaho Fair association Over 11,000 people were in attendance. The weather was perfect A card of seven races, two harness and five gallops, including an Indian relay race over three miles with six changes of riders, was pulled off.

Favorites All Win.

It was a day for the talent throughout, the favorites winning each event. Nim Shy that good brother of the famous Ryland T, a local horse, was the winner of the first harness event, winning over a good field, among which were Firefly. Nigger Boy. Polly Garr and others. The best time was 2:22.

The second harness event was taken by Mike, a Utah horse, best time 2:30.

Races Are Interesting.

Paddy won the quarter-mile gallop for sprinters. Swaybacked Chapple took the three-quarters mile running rather handlly.

The fifth race, four and a half furlongs, was won by Addle D., a local horse, in a driving finish.

The sixth race on the eard was a match race for $500 a side, at three furlongs, and was won by Grey Belle, who beat Miss Knight a scant head.

The last race of the programme, the Indian three-mile relay race, went to Johnson, who captured the event in a gruelling finish by a half length.

Elies Take the Town

Elks Take the Town.

A special train from Pocatello early in the day brought a herd of 250 Elks, who will give the local herd a banquet at Armory hall tonight Tomorrow will close the fair. A fine card of six races, including a five-mile Indian relay race, is on tap for the closing day.

The Eagles will have possession of the town during the day, and it promises to rival the record-breaking attendance of todar.

POLICEMAN KILLS

Officer Is Seriously Injured, and Two Others Are

NEW YORK Sept. 21.-One man was killed, a policeman was seriously injured and two other persons were shot in East Sice riot tonight. The fighting followed the effort of the police to clear away a crowd of men and women who had become disorderly in front of a restaurant in lower Second avenue. Signal for Trouble.

The appearance of Policeman Walter J. Miller on the scene was at once the signal for trouble. One of the women in the crowd jeered at him, and when the men were told to move on they refused to do so. Miller arrested a man named Jack Klein rud was immediately set upon by the fellow's companions.

Prostrate Policeman Fires. Miller was hit several times over the head with a club and fell to the ground, still retaining his hold on Klein. The prostrate policeman was kicked and beaten, but finally managed to draw his pistol, and after shouting a warning, fired twice.

Klein Falls Dead. One bullet struck Klein between the shoulders and he fell dead. The second bullet passed through the leg of Max Felderbaum and then entered the foot of Fiorence Smith, a 19-year-old girl.

AMUSEMENTS

SALT LAKE THEATRE-Ethel Barrymore, in "Sunday," a melodrama in four acts, by Thomas Raceward.

GRAND THEATRE-"A Human Slave," a

GRAND THEATRE—"A Human Slave, a melodrama.

"Sunday" is one of the plays designed to send you away with a few pleasant teats. To begin at the end, one may say, that it has a sad, sweet finish. The atmosphere of the closing seene is charged with pathos. And while through it one may see the happiness that is coming, the sympathetic are carried with deeply touched feelings to the moment of bilas. Sadness is selden so artistically not to say agreeably, imparted to the impressionable breast. The business of the scene is the confession of the killing of the brother of the lover by a proteofor of the sweetheart. An awful revelation! But it is done with restraint and admirable action and leads naturally from grief to the joy of sudden reconciliation. So it is only the hardened throat that may resist through all this the coming of a lump.

The play is one of unusual contrasts. Its opening scene is in the cablin of a mining camp, though realism does not assert itself here. There is little to suggest actual mineral country. About the only local color was that afforded by the red flannel undershirts of the mining characters. But they are good felicws, these near, who personly miners, who have been good to the orphan girl in simple garb. So much does this garb shorten and transform her, that one cannot be really sure that she is Ethel Barrymore until she resumes her status-squeness in an evening costume in the third act in the English bone to transform her, that one cannot be really sursitivat she is Ethel Barrymore until she resumes her statue-squeness in an evening costume in the third act in the English home to which she has been transferred after having been educated through dramatic license, in a single year in a convent school. Plaintive, too, is her note in this play, and there is little of the archness that was so manifest in 'Cousin Kate.' But she charms in a new way, and touches with a gentle portrayal of grief where she formerly amused.

The support is made up of players of merit, including Bruce McRae as the lover, John Barrymore as the friendly slayer of the villinin and Charles Harbury as the friend and advisor of the lovers.

After the killing at the end of the first act, the play does not furnish situations that call for thunderous applause, but the audience, which was lerge, was appreciative and showed it not more in applause than in the tense silence of the last scene.

"Sunday" will be presented again tonight,

"Sunday" will be presand tomorrow afternoon and night.

A Human Slave" is a thrilling melodrama, and gave the capable company an excellent chance to show their talent. The play was well received by a large audience. Among the cast were Duncan Penwarden, as Richard Atherton Sleeker a rough diamond and Dan MacMillen. Derothy Grey portrayed the role of Mildred Stockton the rightful owner of the mills, in a very pleasing manner. The play fairly bristled with dramatic moments. "A Human Slave" will be presented until Saturday afternoon when "Thomas's famous play "Arizona," will open a four nights engagement, with Sunday and Wednesday matinees.

The Fay Foster company will close a suc-caseful engagement at the Lyric Theatre with the performance tonight. Tomorrow afternion "The Brigadiers," with Battling Nelson as a special attraction, will begin an engagement
